PLEADS FOR A REUNITED PARTY

Senator Townsend Who Spoke Before American Republican Club and Extends Hand of Friendship to Those Who Strayed From The Fold.

Pittsburg, Pa., Apr. 26.—United States Senator Charles E. Townsend of Michigan, addressing the American Republican Club here tonight on the occasion of its annual Grant Day banquet, pleaded for a reunited Republican party, add to those who strayed from it in the last campaign he "extended the ungloved hand of a genuine party friendship."

The Senator in presaging his plea reviewed the record of the party, while it was in power, drawing on the Treasury Department figures to illustrate his remarks. Comparison was also made with the proposed policy of the present administration and the new tariff.

"To those Republicans who felt it was their duty to divide the forces of the Republican party in the last campaign, I extend the ungloved hand of genuine party friendship and ask them to accept it as a token of my strong desire to work with them in reuniting and rejuvenating the party which we all have supported in the past," he said.

"We can well afford to overlook the personal differences last year and unite in making our party stronger and more responsive to the great needs of progressive government."

"In the face of Democratic incompetence which means to threaten our property and prosperity, it is clearly the duty of all who believe in Republican principles to unite in the defense of those policies that have made the United States the glory and envy of the world."

HADLEY INDORSED "INFORMALLY"

Middlesex Club of Boston for Him for President; Says Republican Split Was Caused by Abuse of Authority.

Boston, April 26.—Former Governor Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri, was indorsed informally for President of the United States, and Nicholas Murry Butler for Vice-President at the Grant night dinner of the Middlesex Club tonight. Both were guests and speakers at the dinner. The mention of their names was received with cheers.

"There is room for only two big political parties in the United States," said Mr. Hadley in his address. "Republicans and Progressives differ only in methods and not in results."

He believed the time would come when they must agree if they would attain their end.

The split in the Republican party at the Chicago convention he attributed to an abuse of authority by those in control.

FOUR YEARS OF WEARY WAITING

If Present Tariff Bill is Enacted Declares Payne. Ranking Republican of Ways and Means Committee.

CALEB POWERS MAKES INTERESTING SPEECH

Washington, April 28th.—A rush of speechmaking on the final day of general debate on the tariff bill made lively proceedings in the House. The consideration of the Underwood tariff revision to a reading of the measure under the five-minute rule will begin tomorrow. Chairman Underwood has not changed his view that the bill should be disposed of in the House within a week from today.

Representative Payne, ranking Republican member of the Ways and Means Committee, defended the Payne-Aldrich tariff law and declared the Underwood bill as a tariff for revenue measure "a signal failure."

"If this bill becomes a law as it now stands, the next four years will be years of weary waiting," he said. "That the proposed bill is a revision downward, I frankly admit," Mr. Payne concluded.

In a speech in the House Representative Caleb Powers, of the Eleventh Kentucky District, denounced the Underwood tariff bill an overdose of Democratic cure-all remedy for government ills. The high cost of living, he pointed out, is traceable not to the protective tariff but to the unlawful combinations in restraint of trade.

"The Democratic party in the House," he said, "is a child of chance, of unrest and of Republican dissensions. If as chance agent of the American people this party fails to afford promised relief to the wage earners, woe unto you may the Lord have mercy on your troubled souls and coveted jobs."

"Danger lurks and possible disaster lies in the more or less free trade tariff bill you propose to foist upon the people. You have promised the people to remove their burdens by tariff legislation. This responsibility cannot be escaped."

Representative Powers compared the American people with a child who desires candy and can not be pacified until it has eaten enough to make it desperately ill. "The people," he said, "pressed heavily by the high cost of living, have demanded a revision downward of the tariff. They will not realize just what the Democratic tariff policy is until they have an actual dose of it."

The Kentuckian contended that the Underwood bill will not reduce the cost of living. He attributed this condition to the monopolistic interests of the country.

Representative Powers has been ill for several days but is now almost completely recovered.

Case Against Webb Goes Until Monday

The trial of Richard S. Webb, Jr., charged with the burning of the office of Prof. Paul F. Anderson on the campus of Kentucky State University, which was set for trial yesterday in the Fayette Circuit Court, was passed until Monday to give the defendant time in which to have his father, R. S. Webb, who is at McGuffey, Ohio, present, and to give attorneys time in which to prepare the case.

JIM BROWN ELECTROCUTED

"Shine" Brown Pays Penalty of His Life for Killing of Clark Deputy Sheriff

Winchester, Ky., April 25th.—Jim Brown, negro, known as "Shine," was electrocuted at Eddyville prison this morning promptly at four o'clock.

The negro was convicted of the murder of Deputy Sheriff George M. Hart, of Winchester. In a letter written to a friend in the Clark County jail, he confessed that he fired the shot which killed Mr. Hart, and exonerated the other four negroes who were indicted with him for the same crime. Ben Emory was killed, while resisting arrest in Dante, Va. Joe Shepard, known as "Big Boy," died from exposure, after he had been shot by Clark county officers. Jim Hays is confined in the Clark County jail and L. Leek is still at large.

"Shine" expressed repentance for his crime, and stated he had made his peace with God.

He went to the chair without a tremor, his only statement being a confession that he killed the officer.

FOREST TREE

Nursery Will Be Started Within the Next Few Days on the State Fair Grounds.

Frankfort, Ky., Apr. 25.—Within a week State Forester J. E. Barton expects to begin to work of preparing the tree nursery on the ground adjoining the Government fish hatchery at the State Fair grounds at Louisville. He will start the nursery with an acre of seed beds, composed of beds four by twelve feet in dimensions. This will accommodate 400,000 plants. In a year from the planting he hopes to have 10,000 seedlings ready for the transplanting bed, from which they will be shipped at cost to citizens desiring to set them out. He probably will obtain some young trees this year in addition to the seeds.

"Unless there is some great demand for them I will not experiment with exotics," said Forester Barton. "Experience has shown that save under exceptional circumstances they do not prove of commercial advantage. I shall plant trees native to Kentucky and those most valuable for commercial purposes. This department is entirely utilitarian. We want to reforest the watersheds—that is the aim of the Government co-operation, the Federal department assisting only in protecting forests on the watersheds of the navigable streams. We wish to encourage the reproduction of trees in wood lots and forests now being cut down, and the more extensive growing of trees. The nursery will be made to pay for themselves, and as the work now in the pioneer stage in Kentucky progresses it will be revealed that this forest proposition can be made immensely profitable to the land owners, while protecting their soil from washing and doing much to regulate the flow of streams, thus in a measure preventing floods."

"I think at first we shall plant possibly two kinds of ash, several oaks, walnut, hickory, black locust, poplars, catalpa, box elder, linden, chestnut and wild cherry. I am also thinking of experimenting with two kinds of conifers—yellow and white pine."

THE JAPANESE WAR SCARE

She Seeks The American Friendship and Support Not Armed Conflict.

Is Aware of The Advantages The United States Has in The Panama Canal.

Nothing could be more stupid, not to say dishonest, than the attempt to coerce the action of the sovereign State of California in deciding whether Asiatic aliens may or may not own her soil by the pretense that the question involves the risk of war with Japan.

The sober truth is that Japan is not in a position to go to war with any important nation, and that nothing could be more remote from the minds of her responsible statesmen, who are today grappling with tremendous problems of national poverty.

It will be many years before Japan will be a financial condition to undertake another serious international armed struggle.

Only a few weeks ago Prince Katsura acknowledged to Secretary of State, Knox, in Tokio the grave financial embarrassment of his country and ridiculed the idea that the Japanese government would even consider any question of war in its present narrow circumstances.

The prince, who now speaks for the Japanese nation to the rest of the world, assured Mr. Knox in the most solemn manner that Japan's problems at present were domestic, not international.

There is something amazing in the persistence of the Japanese war-scare idea in the teeth of actual facts.

Since her bloody and wasteful war against Russia—which left her with an empty treasury and an enormous new national debt—Japan has been, in a sense, bankrupt.

It was Japan, and not Russia, that first approached President Roosevelt in the hope of securing peace.

Japan had completely exhausted her financial resources in that giant struggle.

Having little stored-up wealth of her own, she had borrowed enormous sums in other countries, and was willing to borrow again; but suddenly the bankers of the world refused to furnish any more money.

It became evident to the capitalists and financiers of Europe and America that it would be dangerous to advance additional funds to a naturally poor country already overloaded with debt, to be wasted in what was seen to be a hopeless warfare; and then Japan sought peace.

That is the true story of the end of the Russo-Japanese war.

In spite of her appalling expenditure of treasure, her victories in the field did not bring a dollar into her exhausted treasury. Peace was accomplished without the payment of a cash indemnity or any equivalent.

Ever since then the Japanese have been staggering under the cruel burden of taxation necessary to meet the immense financial obligations incurred in the great war.

There is not a single Japanese statesman who does not know that his government could not borrow funds in any market to engage in a conflict with the United States.

Without money war is impossible, particularly war with a rich and powerful nation.

The suggestion that if California should deny right of ownership in the soil to persons ineligible to become citizens, Japan might, in a sudden fury of indignation, he driven to declare war against the United States, is a mere iridescence of daring diplomacy.

It will deceive no one familiar with the real condition of Japan today.

The Japanese mobs may shriek under the leadership of the yellow Japanese press, for it hurts the pride of the people of Japan to be classed in any way with the Chinese, whom they affect to despise as an inferior and barbarous people, but the Japanese government has not the remotest idea of resorting to arms whatever California may decide to do.

Not only that, but Japan has been really anxious to gain our national friendship and support, although her new relations with Russia may have taken the keen edge off that desire for our support.

As a matter of fact, when Mr. Taft as Secretary of War, made his last visit to the Philippines, he visited Tokio, and on that occasion received an extraordinary proposal from the Japanese.

Mr. Taft had been received in special audience by the Emperor Mutsuhito, and immediately afterward he was invited into a secret conference with the minister of foreign affairs.

The Minister formally proposed a firm alliance between the United States, Japan and Great Britain to maintain the political and territorial independence of Korea and the "open door" in Manchuria.

The sincerity of Japan in making this offer to Mr. Taft may be judged by what has occurred since. She has annexed Korea against the will of the Koreans, and has done much to cripple American trade in Manchuria.

Mr. Taft promptly informed the Japanese Minister that he was not officially competent to discuss such a question with a foreign government, but felt obliged to say that an alliance of the kind suggested was contrary to the fixed policy of the United States.

He then wrote a private report of the incident to President Roosevelt.

To those who insist upon embarrassing California in dealing with the land tenure question according to her own judgment by pillorying her law-makers as reckless fomenters of war, it is only necessary to answer by pointing out the plan and inaccessible facts.

Japan is not only without money and without credit, but she is aware that the Panama Canal is rapidly approaching completion, and that when the waterway between the oceans is opened the whole Atlantic fleet of the United States can be swung into the Pacific ocean in a few days.

With its Atlantic and Pacific forces united at the present time, the American navy could confront Japan's fifteen battleships with at least thirty-three battleships, eight of them being dreadnaughts.

It is true that practically the whole Japanese navy is kept in Pacific waters, while our active and reserve Pacific fleets consist of one battleship and about twenty cruisers.

But it is well known that, should a great emergency require it, the Panama Canal could probably be prepared for the passage of our great Atlantic fleets, active and reserve, by the end of this year.

Within eight months, or a little more, we could assemble in the Pacific Ocean a force sufficient to annihilate the Japanese navy.

No, the Japanese government may be sensitive about the proposed laws of California, but is not thinking about war with the United States.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan may be, and probably are, right in their efforts to save the feelings of a proud nation with whom we have been living on terms of peace and amity, but it is preposterous to say that if they fail we run the risk of an armed conflict.

The Japanese are haughty, but they are no fools.

Frank Mitchell Announces For Jailer

Frank J. Mitchell, for several years past Deputy Sheriff of this county has announced for Jailer, subject to the action of the Republican party at the August Primary.

In the performance of his duties as Deputy Sheriff he has always been faithful and has made a good officer and he is sure to make a good race for Jailer. He says that so far he has received great encouragement in his race and he is making a thorough canvass of the county and says he will come out winner by a big majority.

That he is fearless in the performance of his duty was shown two years ago when he was shot while attempting to arrest Ev Carnes, at Flat Lick. He had no warning that he would probably be shot if he persisted in attempting to make this arrest, but put duty first and attempted the arrest and by so doing his duty, received a load of buckshot in the leg from the effect of which he was laid up for several weeks.

Progressives Denied Place on Election Board

Evansville, Ind., Apr. 25—Judge
Fred N. Hostetter, of the Superior Court, handed down a decision
Thursday to the effect that the Progressive party is not entitled to representation on the Election Board in the approaching city election.
John F. Young was named as the Election Commissioner, and City Clerk Harvey Weber refuses to recognize him, but recognized Fred W.
Ossenberg in his stead. Young then brought suit before Judge Hostetter.

Middlesboro Man Shot Twice at Cumberland Gap

News from Knoxville, Tenn., on April 26th, says: Estel Laymons, of Middlesboro, was brought to a local hospital last night dangerously wounded, having been shot four times by Marshal Will Patterson, of Cumberland Gap. Lay-mons, with two companions, Dave Fletcher and a man by the name of Townsend, are said to have given out that they were going to take the town, Marshal Patterson, with two men summoned to aid him, arrested the two for drunkenness and took them before the Recorder. Lay-mons was ordered to jail. As the Marshal was trying to remove him Laymons is said to have struck the Marshal in the face with his fist and is also said to have pulled his knife. Marshal Patterson shot Lay-mons twice in the abdomen, but he did not fall. Another shot penetrated the wrist and another lodged in the neck. Laymons was then placed on a train and hurried to a hospital here, but chances are against his recovery.

GARD

TO THE VOTERS OF KNOX COUNTY:—
I am a candidate for Jailer of Knox County, subject to the action of the Republican party at the General Primary to be held next August.

I have been a citizen of this county so long that there is little that is not known of me to be said. I have tried at all times to treat every person right and have tried to perform the duties that have fallen to my lot to perform with justice and impartiality to all. For some time I have served as Deputy Sheriff of this county under Sheriff
S. H. Jones, and in this time have come in contact with the people from all over the county, and you all know me, and know that if nominated and elected I will perform my duties to the best interest of the citizens of the county regardless of political affiliation.

This is the first time that I have called upon the people for an elective office in the county and I will appreciate anything that is done for me during this race.

Yours truly,
FRANK J. MITCHELL.

Senator James is reported to be strongly for him and it now appears that his endorsement means that the President will name him when the names of the different appointees are sent to the Senate for confirmation.

The recital at Union College on Tuesday evening by the pupils in expression under Miss Morey was successful and was enjoyed by an attentive audience.

A very important suit was decided in the Knox Circuit Court here this week in which a judgment of $64,000 was asked against the New Bell Jellico Coal Company by G. P. Bain, of this city. The case was tried out this week and a verdict rendered Tuesday afternoon in which the defendants, the New Bell Jellico Coal Co., were given the decision.

H. W. Bowman has installed a new shoe repairing machine, which he will soon have in operation. With this machine he will be able to reduce the cost of repairing and also quicker service. He will be able to do any kind of repair work that is possible to be done by hand and will have his machine in operation by the last of this week.

The Moving Picture Show is enjoying a better patronage now than it has at any time since Mr. Brown took charge of it. The pictures are still of the highest class and Mr. Brown is also offering attractive prizes for the one securing the largest number of coupons torn from the tickets as they are taken at the door. These offers are creating a great deal of interest and are boosting the attendance.

The Tye Livery stable presents an attractive front now that Mr. Tye has added a new sign which includes several of the incorporated companies in which he is interested. The Tye Livery Co., Barbourville Bottling Works, Barbourville Blue Gem Coal Co., Barbourville Electric Light Co., are those at present listed on the new sign, which appears above the door. These companies are all made up of local people and are all incorporated.

On account of the rain last Saturday morning the baseball game scheduled between the Williamsburg team and Union College team, was called off and will be played in this city next Monday afternoon unless rain interferes. The Williamsburg team is one of the best in this section and last week played three fast games with the league team at Middlesboro, where they were defeated by close scores, but made a good showing. A great game is sure to be played when they meet the Union team.

Circuit Court continues in session here this week and civil suits are now being tried. The criminal docket was cleared last week and this week four prisoners were taken to Frankfort to begin their sentences. There were two murder trials up for this court, something very unusual, and one resulted in a hung jury, eleven being for acquittal and one for the electric chair, and in the other case there was a verdict of manslaughter given, but there was asked a new hearing which is still pending.

MRS. W. E. FAULKNER DEAD

A telegram from W. E. Faulkner at Albuquerque, New Mexico, last Saturday, to his parents in this city brought the sad news of the death of his wife, for whose health he had taken her West several months ago. Mrs. Faulkner had been suffering from lung tuberculosis for many months and they had believed that the high altitude would effect a cure if she was taken to New Mexico, but the trip was futile as was announced by the telegram. No details were given in the telegram except that she would be brought home for burial and her remains arrived here this morning.

Arrangements for the funeral and interment has not been made as we go to press.

Cutting Affray.

A serious cutting affray took place near the trestle in the north end of town Wednesday. T. F. Brogan and Geo. F. Taylor, Superintendent of the Knox Blue Gem Coal Co., engaged in a difficulty in which the latter was cut and slashed several times about the face and body, seriously, but it is not now believed dangerously. Little is known as to the origin of the trouble, but it is said that there was an old grudge standing between them and this is no doubt the cause of the trouble. No one was with them at the beginning of the difficulty although there were persons near at hand and who separated them after Mr. Taylor had been cut several times. Mr. Brogan was uninjured.

Blood Hounds Poisoned.

Last week some one or probably more than one person poisoned the blood hounds of Clarence Mitchell. He had them fastened up where it would have been impossible for them to have reached anything that would have poisoned them, so it is evident that some one slipped up during the night and gave them poison. These were valuable dogs and had been instrumental in running to cover more than one criminal during the past year and it will be no easy matter to replace them, and even if others are procured it will be some time before they could be trained to the efficiency of those of Mr. Mitchell's. It is also reported that one at Middlesboro was recently poisoned, so it is evident that there is about to be some "devilment" started before long. It would be well for every man to keep a good shot gun around the house loaded with buck-shot and give the contents to any one seen prowling around their premises after dark. These dogs were not poisoned for nothing and it will be only a matter of time before the one killing the dogs will begin his work.

Fainted in Courtroom.

James T. Lock, of Artemus, while testifying in the Circuit Court on Wednesday morning, suddenly dropped from his chair and crumpled up in a heap on the floor. It was at first feared that he had experienced a sudden attack of heart failure and had died suddenly, but a physician was hastily summoned and he was found to have fainted and was soon revived. Considerable excitement prevailed in and around the Court house and it was some little time before court was resumed. Mr. Lock is a well known citizen of the county and we are proud that this sudden attack was not a more serious one.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.

On account of other business engagements of the owner, we can sell and give possession of an ideal farm, at very low figures. It contains 135 acres of good land, lying well, 100 acres in grass, situated on a good pike, 4 1/2 miles from one county seat and 5 miles from another. The residence is modern and up to date, having 10 rooms, heating plant, bath &c. There are three large distillery warehouses on the premises, the lumber in them being worth not less than $2,000. The improvements alone are worth half the price of the farm, which reduces the land to a price far below anything now being paid. The price is only $12,500.00 or $92.60 per acre. The land is very fertile. Come and let us show you this bargain. Possession at once or January 1st, 1914.

We have on hand a number of good farms at the right prices.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

SLAVES SET FREE RETURN TO BONDS

Bible Has Been Great Emancipator of Human Slavery.

THE TORCH OF LIBERTY.

Pastor Russell Says All Enslavers Are Opposed to the Truth, Realizing Its Power on the Minds of Their Victims—Message of Christ Showed Mankind the Way to Freedom and Inspired Men With Courage to Spread the Gospel Despite Persecution.

Washington, D. C., January 19.—Pastor Russell preached at Washington Temple today, his third sermon on our Union Depot texts. His text was: "The Truth shall make you free." (John 8:32.) He said: "Truth is the great Emancipator. All enslavers are opposed to the Truth, realizing its power upon the minds of their victims. The taskmasters of today would fain hide the Truth from the wage-slaves, but in general find it impossible so great is the power of the press and there are still publishers who have not sold their moral sense for sordid gain. In times past, when chattel slavery prevailed, the master found it to his advantage to educate his slaves and thus increase their value, but to his disadvantage to give them ethical culture along the lines of human rights. The feudatory lords of the past established a serfdom and were very willing that the common people should consider them demigods, not amenable to the same laws as their subjects. The same principle apparently prompted the emperors of old Rome, yea, and back to Nebuchadnezzar, the first world emperor, to proclaim themselves Pontifex Maximus and to encourage their people to render them religious as well as secular devotion. The natural selfishness of man has ever thus prompted him to take as much advantage of his fellows as circumstances would permit. I am not here saying that the masses may not have fared about as well under those fetters as if they had been free. I am not arguing that all men are born equal. I am merely stating the facts as all acquainted with history know them. I am putting these facts as a background, that my text may shine out the more luminously. "The Truth shall make you free."

Which is the Torch of Liberty? I can imagine many able men identified with the sciences, each claiming that his science, or truth, has done more than any other to break the shackles of ignorance and to set men free. The artist would tell us of the power of the picture to influence even those who cannot read. The publisher would tell us of the enlightening influence of the press. The astronomer would laud his science and tell us of its broadening influence upon the human mind. The geologist, historian and dramatist would each claim for his art the honor of setting men free. But admitting all the claims thus set before us, I ask you to consider my plea that the Bible has been the great Emancipator from human slavery, mental, moral and physical. All other torches derived their spark from the Bible, the Torch of liberty lighted by Divine Providence.

The secret of this great power is that the Bible alone sets forth the relationship of man to man. The Bible alone tells us that all humanity are of one blood, all creatures of the same God, all amenable to Him, either for rewards for well doing, or punishments for ill-doing. While the Bible instructs that kings, princes and all in authority should be recognized, and that honor should be rendered to whom honor is due, yet it also tells us that the king upon his throne is amenable to exactly the same laws as his most menial servant, and that if he violates the law he is as sure to be punished. No other book in the world ever placed all humanity thus on the same level. Moreover, the Bible points out that the present life is merely a schooling time related to the future life as cause to effect. It shows, as none other book does, that every act of life, every spoken word, yea, every wilful thought, bears upon our character-development and prepares us for higher things in the life to come, if faithful, or, contrariwise, will give us more steps to retrace in the upward way, and correspondingly more difficulty in ever reaching the reward of life everlasting.

"Hope Thou in God."

As we look back into the past, we see the nations stupid in the hands of crafty sovereigns. We see the nation of Israel, sordid with fear of their Egyptian taskmasters, not daring of themselves to take steps for liberty. But after they had been delivered from Egyptian bondage, after God had entered into a Covenant with them as a nation at Mount Sinai, they were a changed people.

The thought that God was for them and had promised them aid worked wonders, not only with the leaders, but also with the rank and file. True, they were inclined to gravitate toward the ways of the heathen nations. But to the extent that they remained loyal to their Covenant with God, and trusted in Him, they became intelligent.

Although one of the smallest of the nations, they exercised a great influence throughout the world. The promise made to Israel that they should become the leading, dominant nation of the earth and give laws to all the other nations for their blessing was a contagious suggestion. The Babylonians took it up, and put it into effect by conquering the world. The Medes and Persians followed. Next came the Greeks, ambitious to be the ruling nation. Later came the Romans into power as masters of the world, conquering other nations and giving them laws which still very largely prevail, but which apparently were based upon the Mosaic code.

In considering the influence of the Law given at Mount Sinai, we are to remember that primarily and properly it affected very few. Those few were the faithful ones mentioned by St. Paul in Hebrews 11. But in a general way, all the Jewish people were influenced by the spirit of that Law Covenant, and were made more courageous, more liberty-loving, than formerly, and more so than were other peoples. Josephus felt called upon to defend his people from the charge of being so independent, so headstrong, as to be continuously rebellious.

The Roman emperors seem to have had the idea that the religion of the Jews should be stamped out because it was a liberty-producing religion, unfavorable to their designs. We remember St. Paul's declaration that the Gospel gathered out of the Jewish nation all "Israelites indeed"—"the Elect"—and that the rest were blinded. The blinded ones drew from the ancient promises of God those conceptions of life which, unregulated by the Spirit of the Lord, devoured them with pride and ambition; and such a spirit of independence has made them lawless.

The effect of this, as history shows, was that civil strife destroyed their nationality much more than did the Roman armies, which merely came in at the close and terminated the reign of anarchy. The lesson we would point from this narrative is that the spirit of Divine Truth tends toward liberty more than all other influences combined, but that this liberty may be dangerous to those who receive not the Divine Law and Message into good and honest hearts as Israelites indeed.

Christian Love of Liberty.

The teachings of Jesus and the Apostles went first to the Jew, by Divine direction, gathering from them a "peculiar people, zealous of good works," a class at once godly, reverential and liberty-loving. So independent were they that they willingly rejected the teachings of the Scribes and Pharisees, and braved persecution, ostracism, for what they believed to be the Truth.

Already they belonged to the most independent people of the world, the Jews; but the Message of Christ made them still more independent than their brethren. It made them free indeed by giving them a clearer knowledge of God and of His Divine arrangements. The Gospel Message gave them courage to become martyrs for Christ.

Sinai's Law admitted the nation of Jews to be God's servant people, but the Message of Jesus, confirmed at Calvary and at Pentecost, gave a still higher hope and still more ennobling thought. It was the teaching of Jesus that through His death, a Ransom-price was provided, which eventually would permit the return of all mankind from the power of sin and death, to harmony with the Creator and to everlasting life.

More than this, the Message was an invitation to those who had eyes of understanding and ears of appreciation, that they might, in association with the Redeemer, become the agents of God in bestowing Restitution blessings upon mankind. But in order to be sharers with Christ in His glory, they must be sharers also in His sufferings and ignominy. As He was despised and rejected of men they must not expect to escape similar experiences. Their share in the Kingdom would depend upon their faithfulness and loyalty even unto death.

Is it any wonder that this Gospel Message served to stir their hearts, to open their lips and to make them courageous beyond all others of the whole world? The Message made them free! It explained that in becoming the disciples of Jesus they passed out from under slavery to sin, and became children of the Highest. It declared that, becoming children of God, they were associated with Jesus, they became heirs of God and joint-heirs with Jesus Christ, their Lord and Redeemer—if so be that they should suffer with Him.

They Went Everywhere Preaching.

These, liberated from all fear of death, made free through their confidence in the Savior, manifested their courage. They knew that faithfulness must bring them persecution, yet they kept not silent. They were persecuted by the Jews, because they disturbed the order of things prescribed by the Chief Priests and Pharisees. They were imprisoned, whipped and persecuted, but they went everywhere preaching the Gospel.

Amongst the Gentiles they had similar experiences. Those who made silver shrines for Diana perceived that if the people believed the teachings of the Christians they would have no further use for their shrines. On commercial grounds they opposed the preaching of the Gospel and sought to destroy those who bore the Message. Stripes, imprisonments, tribulation on every hand were the results. Soon the Roman emperors realized the Christians to be a new force and feared the awakened influence on their peoples. Nero and Diocletian crucified them, burned them, caused them to be devoured by beasts, thus making public spectacles of them.

and rendering the very name of Christ odious. Yet even this could not stamp out their spirit of liberty.

Liberty Enlightening the World. Alas! a change came, as the persecutions gradually relaxed, and millions espoused the name of Christ without having received the true Gospel Message to make them free. So for centuries there followed a period of darkness, ignorance, superstition. Yet God was not without His witnesses. A few retained the spirit of the Truth, and were esteemed fanatical, peculiar, and had trying experiences amongst their brethren. The cause of this general lapse into darkness was that the Word of God was no longer the Torch. Instead, the word of bishops became the standard, and later the decrees of councils.

By and by, in God's Providence, the Torch of liberty again was lighted. Huss in Germany and Tyndale in Great Britain, became leaders in a movement to bring forward the Word of God. The darkness hated the light and almost extinguished it. Those who lifted the Torch perished as martyrs, and Tyndale's Bibles were burned at St. Paul's Place, London.

For a time it seemed as if the Torch had been quenched, but later it blazed forth again. Luther and his associates held it up. The bishops who had burned Tyndale's Bibles were themselves forced ultimately to produce a translation. Two Catholic versions of the Bible and our common English version, and Luther's version followed.

The Torch flared up, and the whole world began to be influenced by it. The British, the Germans, Scandinavians and Dutch, became potent influences of civilization and enlightenment throughout the world. Today these nations are still in the forefront, America with them, while the nations which neglected the Bible, have until now made little progress. Now all nations are being influenced by this wonderful Book, although they know it not. The doctrines which the Bible inculcates have given to the civilized world its high conception of human liberties, human rights, human equalities.

Danger Now, as to the Jews.

What we point out respecting the Jews and the influence of their Law upon them, we must now point out with respect to Christendom and the influence of God's Message today. To the saintly Jews, the liberty granted helped them to appreciate the privilege of laying down their lives in God's service. But to the remainder of the nation the liberty led on to greater discontent and strife.

So it is today. The saintly of Christendom, blessed by the great promises of God and inspired by the Truth respecting the redemption from sin and death, are most courageous. But these having become the servants of God, manifest their courage by their faithfulness and loyalty to the principles of righteousness, laying down their lives in the interest of God's Truth.

Here also we find, as with the Jews, that others having the same knowledge, but not being sanctified by the Truth, are made the more discontented. In other words, independence and liberty not under the restraints of sanctification to God and His service, are dangerous to the peace of the world. Thus we see that the most dangerous elements of society are those people who have had more or less contact with the Gospel and its liberty-inspiring Message. Not having received the Truth into consecrated hearts, they are disposed to use their liberty according to their own judgment merely, ignoring the Divine arrangement outlined in God's Word.

Thus we see around us today strife, strife in business, and along social lines, and in a general mashing of interests amongst the lower classes, a mashing of wealth among the upper classes and a general preparation to destroy one another in a sanguinary struggle for supremacy. The Truth has begotten a spirit of liberty; but the Divine Word having been neglected, liberty is in danger of becoming license, leading to anarchy and the wreck of our present civilization.

Became Christ's Bond-Slave.

St. Paul gives the true conception of liberty. It is freedom to do right. If all could so use liberty, what a blessing it would be! St. Paul voiced the sentiments of God's truly consecrated people from his day until now. He explained that through accepting Christ he became dead to other masters and free from the authority of sin, Satan and death. But this release was granted to him on condition that he would fully give up his own will and accept, instead, the will of Christ. He accepted the proposition and declares that thus he became Christ's bond-slave.—1 Corinthians 7:22.

We perceive his thought. The will is the lever which governs and controls the mind. Having given up his will to Christ, St. Paul was thus more fully bound to Christ than any earthly slave has ever been bound.

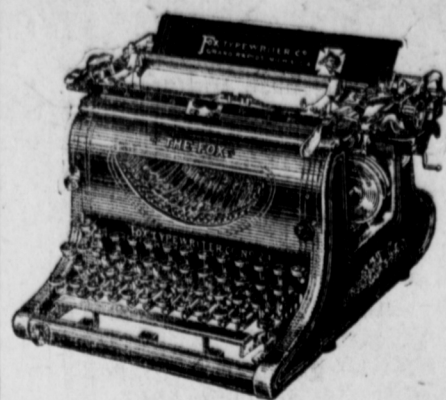

All accepted by Christ give first their wills, and thus bind every act, word and thought into subservience to the will of God in Christ. This was St. Paul's experience, and must be the experience of all those who, like St. Paul, hope to be of the Royal Priesthood, who will be joint-heirs with Jesus.

To some it might seem a terrible captivity to be thus bound as respects even their thoughts; and it would be terrible to be bound to any except the one Master and Head. But to those who really appreciate the Truth, the Holy Spirit of God, to those it is a blessed bondage, in which they rejoice. More and more their minds become transformed and renewed. More and more they rejoice in the liberty where-with Christ makes them free from all other bondages, and more and more they rejoice to be servants of so gracious a King.

RIGHT HERE IS YOUR CHANCE To Buy That Typewriter!

This is Straight-from-the-Shoulder Typewriter Talk by a Typewriter Man to the Readers of The Mountain Advocate

No other typewriter built—regardless of any claims made—is the equal of the new Fox Visible Typewriter either in material used, or in workmanship, or in the number and convenience of its special features. There are many good typewriters being built and sold, but we claim for the New Fox Visible Typewriter that it is better than the best of these, and that its automatic features combined cannot be found in any other typewriter. The New Fox is a typewriter that will meet with the approval of the most critical user. A single demonstration will convince you—we will make it at our expense, if you will permit us.

Whether you have had the use of a typewriter or not, you have paid for one many times over! Yes, sir, we mean it; every day you continue using the old, slow method of writing with a pen you are unconsciously paying for a typewriter. The farmer who cuts his grain with a scythe pays with every drop of sweat for a reaper. If you are neglectful of your wearing apparel and expose yourself unnecessarily to the rain and cold you are paying for the very things that would have kept you well and comfortable. Remember this and mark it well! You must Pay—Pay—Pay—for the necessities of this life, whether you use them or not.

THIS IS THE NEW VISIBLE FOX "BETTER THAN THE BEST OF ALL OTHERS" SENT ON FREE TRIAL, Express Prepaid

Look at the illustration of our New Fox Visible Typewriter, shown above, and compare it with any other typewriter you have ever seen or used. Here is a really VISIBLE typewriter—note that the printing point is on top in plain sight, and that the type bars rise from where they are laying and strike the platen in full view of the operator, and in direct line of vision, and that all of what you have written remains in full sight until the paper is removed from the typewriter. Compare this with those old style typewriters, that some firms are still advertising as visibles, but on which the printing point is beneath the typebars, and you have to look down into them—or between them—to see what you have written. Touch a key on the keyboard and you change the color of your writing instantly from black, blue, or purple to red. Press the Tabulator Key at the left (in front) for paragraphing, writing the complimentary closing, etc.; also for all kinds of billing. At the right (in front) is our Back Space Key. This moves the carriage backward for making corrections, or putting in punctuation. This key also enables the operator to erase a word of three letters and write one of four in its place. Press the Stencil Key shown at the left (front) for making stencils from which thousands of duplicate letters can be made. Four rows of keys reduce the shifting one-third. The right Shift Key locks automatically for writing in all caps. A positive automatic Line Lock prevents you from writing beyond a predetermined line. The ribbon travels in a "zig-zag" line—not straight across from spool to spool as on others—thus using all the ribbon and making it last three or four times as long as on other typewriters. The ribbon automatically re-winds itself from one spool to the other without any attention from the operator. Carriages are interchangeable, and run on ball bearing tracks. Platens are removable, so that both a hard and soft platen can be used on the same typewriter. Extremely light touch. "No falling leaf is lighter than the touch of the Fox Typewriter." Choice of Elite, Pica, Condensed Roman, Medium Roman, or Italic Type—we carry more than three thousand special type in stock, of our own manufacture, and can furnish keyboards for any language. The Fox has an easy, almost noiseless action, is very durable, and is sent complete with cleaning outfit and metal cover with hard wood base.

This is the Fox, the typewriter we manufacture—this is the typewriter that we will send to anyone anywhere in the United States on Free Trial, all express charges fully paid—no "red tape"—no delay—no obligation to buy. If purchased after trial you can pay a little down—whatever you can spare—and the balance in small monthly payments.

Reader, in all sincerity we can honestly say this proposition has never been equaled by any other typewriter company, and all we ask is that you write us TO-DAY—NOW—giving us your name and address so we can send you our catalog and write you personally about our typewriter and Free Trial offer.

The KITCHEN CABINET

THE thing that goes the farthest toward making life worth while. That costs the least and does the most, is just a pleasant smile.

WHAT TO EAT.

He is of all men miserable who enjoys not his food.

Spanish Stew.—Buy beef ribs at the price your butcher insists on asking; put them, after a thorough wiping, into a pot with cold water, a peeled and sliced onion and a half can of tomatoes, a red pepper well minced, and five whole cloves. Simmer gently for three hours, setting on the back part of the range. Thicken with browned flour and serve. Three pounds of beef ribs is sufficient for a family of six.

A little chopped ham left from dinner, added to a white sauce and used on creamed potatoes, makes a very appetizing dish.

Beans and Bacon.—Soak a pint of beans over night and cook in fresh water until tender the next morning. Just before serving add a seasoning of cream, salt and pepper and serve hot. Bacon cut in dice and fried, the beans added and cooked five minutes, is also a nice way to serve them.

Potato Croquettes.—Take a cup and a half of mashed potatoes and mix with a tablespoonful of butter and the yolk of an egg. Season with salt and pepper and milk to moisten. Mold into croquettes, make a hole in each and stuff with a little green pepper which has been fried in butter. Dip the croquette in egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat.

Banana Pie.—Fill a dish with alternate layers of sliced bananas and bread crumbs, beginning with the crumbs and ending with the banana. Pour in rich milk enough to fill the spaces, dot with bits of butter and bake twenty minutes.
